Awakened

The flowers of spring have awakened
Dazzling in color, fragrance and beauty.
Petals blossom to shine light on the budding plants
To allow their growth,
To flourish in the radiance of sun.
They dance in the wind
Say some see their movement, others their light.
They accomplish more than one can imagine.
Love ingrained in the flowers
To hold them is a pleasure that brings a sweet smile to our lips and a brightness to the eyes.
Close your eyes
Let their fragrance sweep over you.
